

Below is a screen shot of the Girl Scout web page that sends girls to do research on the website of the pro-abortion organization Amnesty International. To help you easily find the link we have highlighted it in yellow.

The screenshot shows the Girl Scout website at the URL www.girlscouts.org/program/gc_central/interest_projects/global_girl_scouting.asp. The page features a navigation menu with options like 'Who We Are', 'Program', 'Research', 'News', 'For Adults', 'For Girls', and 'Girl Scout Shop'. The main content area is titled 'Girl Scout Interest Projects For Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors'. Under the 'Global Girl Scouting' section, there are three sub-sections: 'Breakin' It Down', 'You've Got MAD Skills', and 'Helpful Links'. The 'Helpful Links' section contains a list of organizations, with 'Amnesty International (www.amnesty.org)' highlighted in yellow. Other links include Youth Philanthropy Worldwide, The Global Fund for Women, Habitat for Humanity, The International Committee of the Red Cross, The Peace Corps, and Cross-Cultural Solutions. A sidebar on the left lists various program areas, and a right sidebar titled 'Also See:' provides additional resources.
